

Magonarez s.l. Hydroxystyrene resins are used for plastic and metal finishes.

Combination with watertolerant isocyanate based crosslinkers is common practice in various applications.

Magonarez s.l. is a producer of various types of Hydroxystyrene resins with a broad range of molecular weight (distribution ).

Products specifications are available upon request.

The contact form of this website can be used for this purpose.